SPEIL FROM CLAUDE CLARK

Welcomed the Clarksville
Bunch Into Our Midst
Tuesday.

Tuesday was the day of the Clarksville Minstrel show and early in the morning the troop, or squad, or what ever you call a crowd of folks in a minstrel show, were on hand. Just before noon the grand parade took place. The parade—both those who were in it, and those who looked on, formed a great throng at Ninth and Main and then the show commenced. The band played and the crowd watched and Irving Roseborough went and got Claude Clark. Mr. Clark was told to get up and make an address of welcome to the Tennessee visitors and he climbed up in a car and started.

He welcomed the minstrel to our town and praised both Clarksville and its people and brought forth much applause from the Tennessee delegation. He ended, however, with the statement that he was married in Clarksville many years ago; that he had gone back to Clarksville this spring and felt the same thrill as of old, for the old town had not changed a bit. It was just like it was 25 or 30 years ago.

The parade was the most attractive seen here in some time. It was composed of autos filled with the best looking young ladies of Clarksville and Hopkinsville and all the young men on the sidewalks assured each other that they would be on hand at the performance. As an advertisement it was a huge success.

Ligon-Pirtle.

Saturday afternoon Miss Lucille Pirtle, one of the society belles of Hartford, Kentucky, and Mr. Peyton Ligon, now of Hopkinsville but formerly of Earlinton, were united in marriage at Madisonville. The groom is widely known throughout the county. He is remembered particularly by Madisonville people as a crack baseball player who used to wear the Madisonville uniform.—Madisonville Hustler.

GREINA GREEN WEDDINGS.

Mr. A. N. Long and Miss Opal Martin of Hopkinsville, Ky., were married Saturday night by Esq. S. W. Kerr, at his home.

Carlos Baker and Miss Ella Cunningham, of Cadiz, Ky., were married at the court house Saturday afternoon by Esq. John Osborne.—Clarksville Leaf-Chronicle.

To Take Up Martin Case.

The Court of Appeals will hear argument on an appeal in the Lube Martin case June 19. Martin was convicted of the murder of Guthrie Diuguid at Murray, Ky., in 1916 and given the death sentence, but a stay of execution was granted that an appeal might be tried. General Bennett H. Young, of Louisville, will argue Martin's case.

The price remains the same!

Styleplus Clothes
$17

Men who stand out from the crowd want personality and brains expressed in their clothes.

Styleplus Clothes $17 are the result of brains directed in a new way to the clothes-making problem.

The Price Remains
The Same

The Styleplus idea of concentrating a great national volume on a suit of one known price saves money.

Concentration reduces manufacturing costs. Double volume manufacture, advance purchases of cloth, have beaten the popular fad of raising the price.

You can have all-wool fabrics, expert workmanship, substantial linings and trimmings, style by a great designer, guaranteed satisfaction, $17, just as formerly—if you come here.

We are the Styleplus store.

Never Rains but It Pours.

A New Hampshire man ran a mile to catch a train, lost one rubber in transit, in his excitement swallowed a chew of tobacco, and, because his gait was unsteady, wound up by being arrested on a charge of intoxication. That's what we call a run of hard luck.—Buffalo Times.

Frankly Selfish.

We know one thoughtful grandmother who frankly admits that she spoils the baby at every possible opportunity, explaining in her philosophical way that she knows perfectly well she'll get the blame for it anyway and might as well have the fun of doing it.—Columbus (Ohio) Journal.

Thought He Was Reading.

Margaret was not accustomed to the saying of grace. One night she went for supper with the next-door neighbors. "Daddy," said she the next morning, "what was that Mr. Smith read off the platter?"—New York Evening Post.

Palm Beach Suits SOLACE FOR THE HOT DAYS

There was a time when it took courage to wear a Palm Beach Suit. Today people wonder how they have the courage to resist it. There was a time when the swimming pool, or the tinkling ice filled glass, was the only solace for the hot days. Now men turn to the Palm Beach Clothes, as the easy, comfortable, shapely solution. We are showing them in all the colors, plain, tans, grays, stripes and mixtures and patterns to resemble worsteds and prices are so reasonable
